The Food For Poultry In Winter. Much time and money have been spent in what seems an almost vain endeavor-to make hens produce eggs in cold weather. It requires but little experience with poultry to learn the fact that, under ordinary circumstances, hens caunet produce as many eggs in windse as in summer. Summer is the natural time for the laying of eggs, and in order to increase winter production there must be reproduced for the fowls as nearly as possible conand for me sell you a good Cortland Cart & Carrisga Co. sleigh, guaranteed wood, from and Fewer Cases for Poor Master.

There are n'w being cared for in the Bennington town house thirteen persons, two of them being in poor health. This is the same number there were a year ago. During the year four deaths have occurred but the vaccucies have been quickly filled. Dutiely his experience of six years in charge of the town poor Mr. Mathers says that he never saw the time at this senson of the year when the outside calls for help were as few as they now are. This is thought to be owing to the fact flat there is plenty of work for all who want it.
